MEMORANDUM FOR: All School and Staff Chiefs

SUBJECT : DDP Officers on Rotation to OTR

25X1A9A

1. On 2 November 1966, I wrote to [REDACTED] and stated it had been my impression that a DDP officer on assignment to OTR would continue to have a home base with the parent unit from which he was assigned. I added that this system, if ever actually instituted, is not working at the present time and some DDP officers assigned to OTR continue to feel homeless and without appropriate affiliation to a specific unit or person within the DDP.

2. On 16 November, [REDACTED] called me to state that [REDACTED] had taken this subject up on that date with the Personnel Management Committee. He advised Division and Staff Chiefs that DDP officers on rotation to OTR would continue to be the career responsibility of the Division or Staff from which they came. These officers were to feel perfectly free to see Division and Staff Chiefs or their Deputies.

3. Please see that this word reaches each and every DDP officer now assigned to the Office of Training. Future DDP officers coming aboard should be advised of this principle as a routine part of their induction. I encourage officers now with us to make use of this access to Chiefs or Deputies of their parent unit on suitable occasions to the end that principles involved here become well-established in fact and practice.
